PART III – In an analogy, you are trying to figure out the relationship between two pairs of words. First you need to understand the relationship between the words in the first pair. You can do this by making a sentence that relates these two words to each other.

First pair of words: Pen / Writing – Sentence that relates the words: A pen is used for writing.

Next, choose a word that creates the same relationship between the second pair of words as the one in the first pair. A pen is used for writing as a fork is used for _____.

*Pen is used for writing. The word that creates the same relationship with fork is the word eating.*

The analogy reads: A pen is used for writing as a fork is used for eating.

Directions: Figure out the relationship between the first pair of words. Then fill in the blank with a word that creates the same relationship between the second pair of words.
